

A SCF jazz event not to be missed !

The Stanford Club of France is proud to invite you to a rare and exciting Jazz Evening with Jazz pianist, composer, award winning Stanford Professor of Music and Theory,

Mark Applebaum
at the American Cathedral in Paris
23 ave George V, 75008 Paris
Wednesday, March 11th, at 8:00 p.m.

In the lovely setting of the American Cathedral in Paris' Parish Hall, Mark Applebaum will perform a lively solo jazz piano recital featuring many beloved jazz standards and original tunes.
He will also Speak about jazz and the art of improvisation,
And Answer all the questions you never dared to ask about jazz !
"How does the jazz improviser improvise? How does he make "new" with the "old"?"
Bonus: as his father will be present, chances are they will also play a "four hand" piece...

To set the mood for this enchanting jazz evening,
You will be greeted with champagne and refreshments.
After the performance, a cocktail-dinner reception with wine will allow you
To feast, mingle and to chat freely with Mark Applebaum.

Mark Applebaum concertizes in major international concert halls and opera houses, as a solo Jazz pianist or with his father in the "Applebaum Jazz Piano Duo".
His solo, chamber, choral, orchestral, operatic and electroacoustic work (which incorporates traditional and conventional instrumentation as well as much less conventional ones) features in top music festivals, and appears on more than 10 CDs.

Participation Fee: SCF-SBCF members: 24 € pp
Non-members: 29€ pp

Contact/ Reservations:

Maria Adle Besson, maria.besson@wanadoo.fr, 06 14 50 30 43
www.stanford-fr.org

Please detach stub below and send it before March 8th with your check to :
Stanford Club of France c/o Yves Codet, 3 rue Gabriel Fauré, 78370 Plaisir

✂-----

Please find enclosed my reservation check for the SCF Jazz event at the American Cathedral in Paris, March 11th, 2009.

Name.....E-mail.....

Guest(s) Name

Total amount:€(24€pp SCF-SBCF members/29€pp non-members